the cycle (at the national level):

- the tentative email goes out on Tuesday
- the final version goes out on Thursday
- the email is archived on the TSDA web site

the cycle (at our local level):

- * we have a secondary list of recipients
- * we send out a PDF of readings to all

What do you need to do this in your institution?

- Need to be able to gather a 'quorum'
- A computer with a screen large enough for room
- A few texts (Johns Hopkins Manual, Shields)
- A scanner
- A handful of faculty who'll commit to coming

our conference schedule:

- thoracic on Monday
- cardiac on Thursday
- other days for M&M, cath conf, etc

3 things you never want to hear:

*some assembly required.

*what's her (his) name?

* we need to talk...

our goal:

to start and maintain a conversation...

Other spin-offs...

Team excitement and conversations

Easy involvement of many others

Occasional debates

Circulation of classic articles

Development of electronic library

who's working on the curriculum?

Editorial Board:

Calhoun, Puckett, Winer, Tribble, Harman

Thoracic: Dan Miller, et al

Congenital: Hal Walters, et al

Cardiac: Thourani, Meldrum, Reddy, Walker, Lee, Shemin, Harman, Tribble

expected changes:

- podcasts
- search for the 'classics'
- negotiation with publishers (journals, texts, etc)
- new emphasis on critical care
- synching with ITE
- possible move to a 3 year cycle
